Town Council.

The regular meeting of the town council was held Monday evening, with Mayor Chambers in the chair and all councillors present.

The secretary reported that no appeals had been made against the voters' list and a court of revision would be unnecessary. He also reported that the collection of taxes up to the discount date, Nov. 30th, had been fairly satisfactory, being somewhat better than last year.

Matters of relief was the principal topic of discussion and two cases were recommended for direct relief.

The question of arrears of taxes was considered. It was pointed out that there had been no tax sale in Didsbury for a number of years and that a number of properties were getting badly in arrears. It was thought that it would be necessary to hold a tax sale early next year.

Messrs. Arthur Howser and Archie Weber visited with Mr. and Mrs. Orville Weber at Calgary over the weekend.

Two Important Changes in Postal Regulations

According to information received from Postmaster H. Morgan, two important announcements have been made by the post office department at Ottawa.

The first is free insurance on all parcels posted in Canada for delivery in Canada, up to $50.00 if so requested by the sender. If the sender desires to insure parcels in excess of $50.00, the regular insurance fee of 12c must be prepaid.

The rates on parcel-post will now be subject to a change immediately, and the weights will apply to the nearest pound. For instance, a parcel weighing from 2 lbs. up to 2 lbs. 8 oz. will be liable to postage at the rate of a 2-lb. parcel; over that amount and up to 3 lbs. 8 oz., the 3-lb. rate, and so on.

Chiselling

The N.R.A. campaign in the United States, if it has not added a new word to the vocabulary of the American people, has at least given a popular and significant meaning to an old word, and has brought that word into every day conversation. It is being used by everybody from President Hoover to the man on the street corner. The word is "Chisel," "chiselled," "chiselling." It has become an accepted slang phrase, and like so many slang words and phrases it is very appropriate for the use to which it is being put.

In its usually accepted meaning, "Chisel" is the name of an instrument of iron or steel used in carpentry, joinery, cabinet work, masonry, sculpture, etc., for paring, hewing, or gouging. In its slang adaptation it is applied to mean "to cut close," as in a bargain; in a word, to cheat.

Thus, under the new almost universal N.R.A. codes in the United States providing for shortening hours of labor, increasing wages, controlling sales prices, regulating production, the word is being applied to the individual or the concern which by one devious means or another seeks to pare off a little here or there from the spirit of the agreement into which they have entered, or to gouge a little out of their workmen or their customers. Such individuals or concerns are known as "Chiselers," and the tactics employed by them as "chiselling." They are apt and expressive words when so used.

One is inclined to extend the application of these terms beyond the many people in all lands and of all classes and conditions to life itself, its manifold duties and responsibilities.

There is the boy and girl in school whose education is being provided for them possibly at great expense and very real sacrifice by their parents but who, instead of applying themselves diligently to their studies for the few brief years of school training, are "chiselling" their way through devoting only sufficient time and thought to their work to "get by" but not really and earnestly striving to make the most of their opportunities. They are responsible for waste all round—waste of money and of personal sacrifice by their parents, waste of their own time and opportunities, waste of the teacher's time and effort. They are chiselling something out of their own lives which, to their lasting regret in later years, they can never replace.

There is the teacher who, instead of giving of their very best to their pupils, and taking a keen interest in their advancement, are content to just "get by" their inspector and retain their positions by having a sufficiently satisfactory number of "passes" by their pupils irrespective of the fact as to whether or not real instruction has been given to them.

There are the "clock watching" employees—clerks, stenographers, workmen in all trades, laborers in every field, who, instead of striving to give a maximum of efficient service in return for the wages paid to them, are time-servers, doing just as little as they can, gouging their employers of time and effort which rightfully belongs to them. On the other hand, there is the employer who in one way or another gouges his most faithful employees.

There is the contractor and the manufacturer who gouges the public by using shoddy instead of pure materials, who pares off a portion of the right amount of material that ought to go into the production of an article or in the construction of a building, and who is not above slipping one or two imperfect articles into a shipment of goods, or using some defective material in a building when it is least likely to be seen. They are chiselers, and are indifferent to the fact that their chiselling may result in disaster, great loss and suffering to others.

There is the debtor on the one hand who resorts to every kind of a dodge in an endeavor to escape payment of his just debts, and the creditor on the other hand who takes advantage of the difficulties of his debtors to despoil them for all they have, regardless of the fact that those difficulties may be beyond the debtor's control and which to the best of his ability he is striving to overcome. Both classes are chiselers.

There is that large group who have a perverted twist or kink in their characters which induces the belief that it is all right to try and get the best of Governments,—persons who will smuggle, persons who "chisel" with great ingenuity when filling out an Income Tax form, persons who surreptitiously use their radios or motor cars without a license, and so forth and so on.

Then there are numerous people who "chisel" in the discharge of their general obligations as citizens. Men and women, for example, who are too indifferent to even take the trouble to cast a ballot, who defame all persons in public office who are endeavoring to serve the public welfare, who characterize politics as dirty and corrupt and who stand aloof therefrom instead of discharging their own duty and actively assisting to raise the standard of public life.

Possibly each and every one of us is a chiseler in one way or another. And it might not be a bad idea for all of us to take stock of our own attitude towards many things and then seek to discover just wherein we are chiselers.

Then, there is the other phase of chiselling. The sculptor who takes an unsmooth block of wood, stone or marble and chisels away until there emerges a thing of beauty. Such a one is typical of many men and women who are devoting their lives to chiselling away the undesirable, the ugly, the evil of life. They are engaged in removing the grime that may have accumulated and buried that which is beautiful and good.

The vital question is: What kind of a chiseler are you?

Child Welfare is credited with saving—Chile may exempt from taxation all the 100,000 babies in England in the buildings constructed by private hospital years.

Testing Penny Flipping Odds

Professor Hopes To Prove Heads And Tails Are About Even

Penny flipping odds are about even on heads and tails after 40,000 scientific flips. That's what Professor Pope R. Hill, of the mathematics department of the University of Georgia, has found. Months ago Professor Hill began his flipping. He assembled 200 pennies, a hundred of one date, and the same of another. He balanced each penny against the other down to one-thousandth of a gram. He expects to flip the pennies for the 100,000th time next July and then his experiment will be complete.

LETTER FROM A MAN
OF 90

About His Rheumatism

He asks us to excuse his writing. We do more than that—we congratulate him on being able to write at all at his age, especially as he has been suffering from rheumatism. This is what he says in his letter:

"Three years ago I was in bed for six weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. Since that time I have been taking Kruschen Salts, and have not had another attack. But my hands are still somewhat stiff. I take Kruschen every morning before breakfast, and shall continue to do so, because I am sure it will keep me in good health for three years. Excuse this writing, as I am ninety years old, and use both hands to write it."

J.C. Kruschen dissolves away those needless crystals of uric acid which are the cause of all rheumatic troubles. It will also flush these "dissolved" crystals clean out of the system. Then if you keep up "the little daily dose," excess uric acid will never form again.

Placed On Retired List

"Tally-Ho V.C." Given Honorary Rank Of Brigadier

Known as the "Tally-Ho V.C." and stated to have been the first British soldier to enter an enemy trench in the Great War near Mons, Col. John Vaughan Campbell, V.C., has been placed on the retired list under the age limit and granted the honorary rank of brigadier. Col. Campbell carried the standard because he rallied his men under enemy machine-gun fire by blowing a hunting horn and giving the traditional hunting-cry.

Leaving Pacific For Summer

U.S. Fleet Is Ordered To Concentrate In Atlantic

The United States fleet will be concentrated in the Atlantic next spring for the first time in almost four years.

President Roosevelt authorized the first line of defense to start stemming from the Pacific to the east coast after the winter months. It will return to the Pacific in the fall.

The fleet, comprising the battle and scouting forces—the latter formerly known as the Atlantic fleet—have been stationed in the Pacific since the spring of 1922.

During the past 18 months the navy has explained that the scouting force was kept in the Pacific for reasons of operating economy. The situation in the far east was understood, however, to have played a considerable part in the retention of the full fleet in the Pacific.

The reason given for the order to return was explained by Henry L. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, as a return to the fleet's normal operating policy.

Was Well Hidden

The gentleman who was engaging a new chauffeur asked the man if he had ever had a serious accident. "Only once, sir, when I had a bad front wheel skid as the result of running over a bottle." But goodness gracious, surely you saw the bottle? "Well, no sir. As a matter of fact, the chap had it in his pocket."

Had Outstanding Career

Director Of Pasteur Institute Dies After Long Illness

Pierre Paul Emile Roux died in Paris at the age of 80 after a long and outstanding career as director of the Pasteur Institute and collaborator with Louis Pasteur in studies of bacteriology and diseases like diphtheria.

He had suffered from tuberculosis for 40 years while a colleague, Dr. Albert Calmette, who died Oct. 29, struggled to find a cure for the disease.

To much of the world Dr. Roux seemed an ascetic recluse, for he ate simply, slept on a hard camp bed, and spent much of his time in research. From 1894 to 1915 he directed the Pasteur Institute.

He studied infectious diseases and hydrophobia and produced vaccines in collaboration with Pasteur and others for anthrax, dread cattle scourge. He aided also in the development of diphtheria toxins. With Dr. Behring he received the Nobel prize for their work on serum therapeutics.

Hard To Replace

People Always Find Someone Staple About Old Friends

Old friends are so hard to replace. We meet new ones all the time, but the new ideas are not the real ideas of years ago. There is something staple about old friends. You know them and when you know someone for twenty-five or thirty years and meet them all the time, it is a different kind of a hello than the new friend gives you. The hello from an old friend means so much more. You look into each other's eyes, and see each weathering the storm of life—who is gray, who is getting bald, who has grown the fatter, and when you both meet and say you look the same as you did twenty-five years ago and the same compliment is returned makes the hello so different.

Developing New Industry

The latest Manitoba industry to be developed is the Manitoba low bush cranberry. Hitherto cranberries have been imported into the province. The type that grows in Northern Manitoba is known as the "low bush" cranberry, which the early winter frost seems to sweeten so that frozen berries can be thawed with full flavor retained. The berries are coming to Winnipeg in 1,000 pound lots.

Newspaper An Institution

Col. R. R. McCormick, of the Chicago Tribune, says the newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry through widely circulated advertisements, to inform and lead public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide.

Chief Power Of Life

Reverence is the chief power and joy of life; reverence for what is pure and bright in your own youth; for what is true and tried in the age or sphere; for all that is gracious among the living, great among the dead, and marvellous in the powers that cannot die.

Quick Relief Now
From Neuralgia

Real ASPIRIN Starts Taking Hold in Few Minutes

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia, — the fastest safe relief, it is well and deserved.

Those results are due to a scientific discovery by which an Aspirin tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. An Aspirin tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And fluid is ready to go to work almost instantly.

When you buy, though, be on guard against substitutes. To be sure you get ASPIRIN'S quick relief, be sure the name Bayer in the form of a cross is on every tablet of Aspirin.

British Aviator Has Amazing Escape When Forced To Jump In Spinning Research Trials

Flight Lieut. C. S. Standland, test pilot and racing motor car driver, had an amazing escape from death when he was making special research spinning trials with a secret type of aeroplane near Colnbrook, Middlesex, recently. Spinning trials form part of the routine work in the testing of new British aeroplanes, and these trials are first done by the manufacturers and are repeated by the official test pilots of the air ministry's experimental stations.

Often considerable risks must be taken by these pilots when some novel feature is being tried out, as in this instance, special research work is being done, but they develop special facilities for dealing with emergencies. It is doubtful if, in the whole history of flying, any test pilot has had such an anxious moment as Flight Lieut. Standland.

He was performing special research spinning trials at about 7,000 feet when a flat spin developed with high rate of rotation. For some time he endeavored to extricate the machine but without success. Finally he decided the time had come when he must jump with his parachute.

The aeroplane was spinning to the right and he decided to jump over the left side of the fuselage in order to fall clear of the machine. Owing to the direction and speed of rotation of the aeroplane, however, Flight Lieut. Standland was immediately hurled back into the rear cockpit of the machine. Fortunately he had not begun to pull the rip cord of his parachute, so that the canopy was still in the pack. The rear cockpit of this particular machine is deep and he found it difficult in getting up to his feet as a result of the high centrifugal loads. But eventually he struggled to his feet and climbed out of the machine for the second time.

Through all these experiences he remained perfectly cool and was able to guess the cause of his being thrown back into the machine. He reasoned he must jump this time over the other side and this he succeeded in doing, the machine still spinning fast and rapidly. He fell clear but waited to ensure there was no risk of his parachute fouling the aeroplane. The aeroplane passed within a few feet of him as he fell, and he pulled the rip cord. Immediately afterwards he saw the machine only a few feet below him. While he had been pulling at the cord the aeroplane must have passed behind him, falling at a higher speed than he had thought. He landed safely near Colnbrook and his aeroplane crashed in a disused gravel pit about two miles away.

Flight Lieut. Standland is a pilot with a remarkable record. He has won many events, both on road and track, and recently during the Ulster T.T. motor car race he set up new class lap records in a six-cylinder car. In 1928 he was selected to be a member of the British Schneider trophy team. His skill at aerobatics is universally acknowledged.

Home Of Poet Restored

Philadelphia Home Of Edgar Allan Poe Now Public Shrine
Restored in every detail to its appearance of a century ago, the Philadelphia home of Edgar Allan Poe has been opened as a public shrine.

It was here that he wrote the poem, "The Raven," and many stories, including "The Gold Bug." Many original manuscripts, first editions and other valuable pieces from collections of Poe's works now are on display in the restored, three-story cottage.

Included among the original articles are a stove, a desk and bedroom furniture. A bust of Pallas has been placed in the study in which Poe worked.

Avail Hunting Accidents

In deer hunting season in Missouri's rugged Ozarks a hunter without a red hat isn't well dressed. A red hat, or at least red feathers in a hat that isn't red, is supposed to be the signal to other hunters that the wearer isn't a deer. Not a single fatality was reported last year and red hats and red feathers were given much of the credit.

Unnecessary Accidents

Mechanical Condition Of Many Cars Menace To Safety

Justice Kelly, speaking in the supreme court at Whittier, Ontario, uttered a great truth when he stated that many automobile accidents were caused by people driving cars which had long since qualified for the junkpile. His observations were made from his experience of court cases arising out of such accidents, and they will be supported by many who have been victims of accidents because of inferior, and sometimes uncontrollable cars, being driven on the highways.

This condition is, perhaps, more apparent at the present time than it has been in past years. Cars are being driven on the highways today which, in more prosperous years, would have long before been consigned to the scrap heap, unfit for further service. But that is no reason why human lives should be endangered. No car should be allowed to travel on the highway unless its mechanical condition is such as to keep it well within control, to make a safe vehicle to drive.

Both pedestrians and motorists whose cars are in safe condition have a right to such protection, and if there is no law which can keep unsafe cars off the roads then it is time one was enacted.—Oshawa Times.

Discussion For Next Session

Federal House To Debate On Question Of Titles For Canadians

Whether Canadians should be allowed to accept titles from the king, will be discussed by parliament when it opens next January. Humphrey Mitchell, Labor member for Hamilton east, is expected to start a full-fledged debate by introducing a resolution to continue the discussion with the exception of judges, military and naval officers.

Premier R. B. Bennett, shortly before the close of the last session, announced the government did not consider itself bound by the Sicile anti-titles motion passed in 1919.

Lancashire Woman Who Claims Relationship With Edison Has Some Remarkable Inventions

Safety In The Home

Commonsense Rules Given By Health Officer Of New York

New York's health commissioner has prepared a "home safety code for adults" containing a list of injunctions. Some of these are:

Have every room and all stairs well lighted.
Keep floors clear of grease, tops, etc., and the stairs free of all obstructions.
Use a rubber bath mat in the bathroom.

Use a step-ladder when working above the floor.
Use non-inflammable cleaning fluids.

Keep wet hands off electrical appliances.
Read the label before taking any medicine.

Use commonsense, do not rush, be careful.
These are all rules of elementary commonsense. But it is just by the simple neglect of ordinary precautions that accidents occur in homes.

Misses Lost Pounds

"Aunt Mamie" Williams, Negro, who once tipped the scales at 78 pounds has complained to the Sheriff's office at Jacksonville, Florida, that troublesome neighbors have caused her to lose 200 pounds. "They have made her feel 'poorly,'" she said, and she wants peace and quiet restored to the lost poundage may be regained. She is forty-eight and works in the garden in which much of her food is raised.

Mrs. Peck: "She's a very pretty, but she never says a word. I can't imagine why all the men speak so highly of her."

Mr. Peck: "I can."

Under Three Flags Expedition

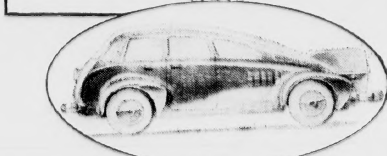

Travelling from Canada to Mexico with many stops in Canada and the United States. Over a dozen cars make up the caravan. (Above) A streamlined car which takes the lead.

At left Map of the route the expedition will travel from Peace River, Canada, through the United States to Vera Cruz, Mexico, this month.

(Below) Engineers' design for a 1931 streamlined car which is even nearer to the future streamlined ideal than the Three Flags Expedition model now on tour.

"Travelling at high speeds, an automobile of older design uses approximately 50% of its gasoline consumption just to overcome wind resistance. Streamlining reduces this resistance greatly, hence makes power economies. It also greatly enhances riding comfort, since it permits of a far more scientific weight distribution than the old model cars allow. Until the present time, practically all passenger cars have been modelled on the lines of the old horse-drawn carriage, with the long nose of the hood in place of the horse. The Institute of Aero-Dynamic Research state that undoubtedly we shall, in the near future, see our ideas of present lines revised according to new scientific precepts. Noses of cars are going to be much bunter in proportion to the general car length; cars will grow broader in front and taper to the rear, which is just the reverse of the old carriage design."

Following in the footsteps of Edison, the world-famous inventor, whom she claims as a remote relative, a Lancashire woman has her own number of remarkable inventions.

Under her maiden name of Nell Bradshaw she has patented some extraordinary devices.

In the drawing-room of her home at Heaton Chapel, near Manchester, Miss Bradshaw has her newest inventions set out on the carpet, and even on the piano stool.

Her four latest and most important inventions are a lamp for penetrating fog at sea or on land, an improved robot signalling apparatus, an anti-drowning life-jacket; and a thief alarm for unattended motor cars.

With the curtains of the drawing-room closed, Miss Bradshaw demonstrated the capabilities of her lamp for penetrating fog or darkness.

The lamp was built externally of copper, and with a series of lenses inside the "bull's eye."

Miss Bradshaw switched on the light and directed it to the furthest corner of the room.

So powerful was the effect that a pin head on the wall could be seen quite plainly at a distance of 15 feet.

The light itself was amber, and the current was taken from one of the ordinary wall sockets.

"By using a more powerful lamp at sea," declared Miss Bradshaw, "it would be possible to dispel fog for a distance of at least five ship-lengths away."

"That distance could be increased by building the entire lamp on a large scale still."

"It has been tested on the road by the Stockport police and two of the principal bus companies operating in the North, and now the Ministry of Transport has taken an interest in it."

Miss Bradshaw then showed her life-jacket, which is made of rubber and is fitted with four pockets.

It is intended for use by life-guards at seaside places, and by shipwrecked seamen and airmen, who are forced to come down on the water.

By inflating a tube attached to the jacket it is always ready for an emergency.

It is worth like a short water-proof, but as soon as the wearer gets into the water the lower edges spread out on the surface like a circular lifebelt.

This keeps the upper part of the body erect and clear of the water entirely, and Miss Bradshaw claims that a non-swimmer could paddle about the water for days if necessary.

One of the pockets is fitted with a "hair-trigger" wireless transmitting set so that an S.O.S. can be sent out.

Another pocket contains a compass, a third a revolver, and the fourth pocket is packed with foodstuffs.

Miss Bradshaw further claims that she invented 12 years ago, a similar system of robot-stay signals to that which is in use today.

"I was born in New York," she explained, "but came to England when I was quite young."

"I have always been interested in the question of life-saving, whether ashore or afloat, and nearly all my ideas have that object behind them. Financial gain never concerns me."

"According to the family history, I am remotely related, on my grandfather's side, to Edison."

Two Nations Spending Millions With Huge Budget Deficit

A Tokyo cable to the New York Times tells that Japan faces a budget deficit in the coming year of $275,000,000. Yet Japan will spend on her army and navy next year $550,000,000. Civilization truly is a baffling thing.—Ottawa Journal.

And the country where the New York Times is published has budgeted for a deficit of $307,000,000 in 1931 and navy and army expenditures exclusive of non-military items of $586,000,000.—Toronto Star.

All This Wrath in Getting Bills

There are some people who try to emulate the old boy who jumped over the moon when they receive a statement of an account they have failed to pay. They vow never again to deal in the particular store or place of business that dared "resently them with a bill." Their humiliation over the receiving of an account may be genuine, but is so foolish in the extreme.

As one writer puts it, it is an honor to receive a bill. A bill is an indication that someone has faith in your honesty and faith that you will some day liquidate the debt. Had he not possessed that faith in your integrity you would never have received the goods without the cash. We have heard a lot lately about the cash system being the only method for successful business. Why? Because too many people contract bills and make an effort to pay. Fidoless with these people is a dead loss, and anything but a pleasure. On the other hand, when you walk into a place of business, ask for credit and receive it, make up your mind this is an evidence of confidence and something you in turn should respect.
It isn't the credit system that is wrong
but the abuse of it.

So, dear reader, the next time you receive a bill, don't fly off the handle. The man who gave it to you trusted your honesty, and perhaps needs what you owe him to put somebody else who trusted him.

Price of Public Service.

A well-known public man loves to play a game of chess, but he has not had time for any such recreation for many years past. He is in "public life" a member of parliament, a leader of his party. He receives a plentiful share of applause from one section of the public, and liberal abuse from another. What he perceives to be his "public duty" keeps him travelling all over the country.
If he gets half a dozen peaceful evenings in his home during an entire year he is lucky. In fact he never gets any peace at all, his entire life is spent trying to solve other people's problems. His wife complains that she hardly ever sees him, and his children are practically fatherless.

A Foundation for Goodwill.

There is a very solid foundation for the goodwill that prevails towards United Grain Growers wherever the sign of this Company appears on an elevator throughout Western Canada.

It rests on many years of useful service, and a long demonstration that this Company not only desires to take care of the interests of its farmer customers, but it has the organization, the equipment, the resources and the experience which enable it to do so.

Whether in selling grain or in buying farm supplies it is sound business to deal with this Company.

THE KNOCKER.

When you hark to the voice of the knocker,

As you list to his hammer fall, Remember the fact that the "knocking" act
Requires no brains at all.

When you list to the growl of the growler,

As you hark to his ceaseless growl,
You will please recall that a dog is all
It takes for an endless howl.

As you watch for the "kick" of the kicker,

As you notice his strenuous kick,
You'll observe the rule that our friend
The mule
Is great at the same old trick.

The knocker, the growler, the kicker;
Foolfinder large and small—

What do they need for each daily deed?
No brains, no faith—just gall!
—E. A. Guest

and he will probably die at least ten years ahead of his natural time, just worn out.

But he is trading what most people regard as the "path of glory," and we suppose he finds a satisfaction in it somewhere. It is, however, at the cost of losing every simple, ordinary satisfaction that is a part of everyday life for the inconspicuous man.
The desire for public praise doesn't explain why men accept such burdens for they as often get blame. The truth must be that such men are animated by a sense of great duty.
The truly great ones are, wherein lies a great hope, even in these troubled times, for it is evident they are all, in their own way, striving to be of real public service.

"Improbable Story" Wins Freedom for Sundre Man

"This is undoubtedly the most improbable story I have ever heard called upon to place before any court," declared Norman Dingle, counsel for Robert A. Ferguson, Sundre farmer, charged with false pretences.

"Yes, the story is so silly that that may be a certain amount of argument for its truth," said Magistrate H. G. Scott when he dismissed the charge.

Ferguson's story was that some rival competitor in the trucking business impersonated him, with the object of causing him trouble.

First, the rival competitor stole Ferguson's truck, went to a local service station, bought four gallons of gas and forged a cheque for $5.00. His next move was to set fire to Ferguson's truck and destroy it.

According to the competitor was he wore worn-out glasses like Ferguson's and a similarly colored suit, because his service station attendant identified Ferguson.

"The whole case turns on the identification by one man, and you know what a risky thing that is," said the magistrate. "I believe you are guilty," he said, addressing the accused, "but I am not sure, and therefore dismiss the charge."

"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."

The above film, starring Ralph Bellamy and Marian Nixon, shows at the Opera House this Friday and Saturday, December 8th and 9th, is a story that will grip you all the way right to the end.

The story is of a poor little girl who goes to live with her rich aunt and nearly runs away the first night, only to be given better judgment by the young doctor she happens to meet on the way to her aunt's. Money complications follow, and "Auntie" is saved from her deathbed by the young doctor whom she does not want to have.

The supporting cast includes Mae Marsh and Louise Closser Hale. It's a real picture for the whole family.

"Kritiks' Korner."

At last the broken windows in the Bank of Montreal building have been fixed—after a fashion—by boarding them up. No doubt boards are cheaper than glass and they look better than the bare openings, but, boarded-up windows are a bad advertisement for the town. It gives the visitor an impression that the place is going to seed. The town should purchase the building and repair it. The lower floor could be used for the offices of the mayor and clerk and for police headquarters. The upstairs could either be rented, sold, or converted into a town hall.

Three Cheers for Didsbury!—Another new business enterprise has just been launched here since our last writing. Let us keep on and we will yet lick "Old Man Depression. Who knows, perhaps we have already rounded that "Corner," around which prosperity is said to be lurking.

Were we informed that Railway St. had been gravelled, but as we drive over it we find it hard to believe the statement. It seems to us that the same old holes are still there. If they are not the same ones, they are at least similar to the ones we had become so familiar with.

Again we ask—Why not a Community Christmas Tree?

A $42.50 C.C.M. Motor Bike Goes to Boy with Largest Number of Votes.

The bicycle contest at Hillyard's store has proved very popular with the boys around town.

The prize Mr. Hillyard is offering is a prize worthwhile. A $42.50 C.C.M. motor bike is worth working for, and the 32 boys who have entered the contest have all been working hard.

Last weekend Billy Moon was heading the list, with Eric McGill, Bob Sherman, Joe Crammon and Sandy Gathroes crowding him close. All the other boys still have a good chance to come to the front, as anything can happen between now and Christmas.

Mr. Hillyard has a good line of goods by the leading manufacturers and by patronizing his store you may be able to help some boy have a real merry Christmas.

For every cent you spend or pay on account at Hillyard's gives one vote in the bicycle contest.

Letter Sorters Are Clever

Halifax Postal Inspectors Delivered Letter Addressed In Figures.

Letter sorters in the post-office don't invite people to address letters in code, but they made it known they could understand some of them.

One envelope arrived at Halifax, Nova Scotia, with a series of numbers but not a letter written on it. This took a little thought for the boys who toss around letters like a "hustler" does handballs. But the letter finally was delivered by a soldier in Wellington barracks.

Each figure represented the corresponding numerical position in the alphabet they discovered.

Water Buses On Thames

Passenger Traffic Is Planned For London's Water Highway

London's broadest highway, which has been practically neglected for 20 years or more so far as passenger traffic is concerned, is likely, before long, to come again into use. Private enterprise will probably soon provide a service of "water buses" on the Thames. Arrangements are afoot for the establishment of a service of vessels to call at the long-neglected piers which used to be served by the "penny steamers."

All the boats will be capable of a speed of 17 miles an hour. Express or non-stop boats will take about 35 minutes between Hammersmith and London Bridge.

During the years 1905-1908 the London County Council ran a service of passenger boats on the Thames, which was eventually stopped because it did not pay.

It is believed that with the increased passenger loads of today, and faster, more economical and weather-proof boats, such a scheme will now be a success.

The World Famous Remedy for LIVER & STOMACH TROUBLES

History Repeats Itself

This Time United States And Russia Change Places

Appropos of President Roosevelt's gesture of recognition toward the Soviet Socialist Republic, a gesture that has been withheld for some fifteen years, it is interesting to recall that it took Russia thirty-three years to recognize the infant Republic of the United States. This great Empress Catherine thought the American Republic an infamy—a people who dared challenge the divine right of emperors; who separated the Church from the State, and who had the insolence to declare that all men were born free and equal. To her Imperial Highness, this was anarchy.

There followed the rule of the Emperor Paul, who played safe conservatism until Russia got rid of him by strangling him—the Russian alternative for electing his successor. Alexander I. did not quite see why he should recognize a distant country across the sea, but as time went on and the other nations were doing it, and the thing became expedient from a trade standpoint, he consented to take the risk.

Now, after more than a century, it is the United States which is debating whether it should recognize Russia and for the same reasons. It is a curious prank of history. Ottawa Journal.

Airport For Singapore

Is Being Patterned After Best One In England

An airport patterned after the best in England and the continent is being constructed in Singapore, Straits Settlements. The new aerodrome will be about ten minutes by automobile from the heart of the city as compared with an hour for the existing landing field which is located on the other side of Singapore Island. The site of the landing field now under construction is a huge mangrove swamp about 70 acres of which have already been drained.

Church For Airmen

Simple Building Is Being Erected In French Village

A church is being built for French airmen. Officially the parish church of Nouveau Bourget, the village on the borders of Le Bourget, the shrine will contain a chapel dedicated to Our Lady of the Skies.

New Bourget, which numbers 7,000 inhabitants, has been growing ever since the famous airport was turned over exclusively to civil aviation. It is expected the village will number 15,000 inhabitants by the end of 1933.

St. Charles du Nouveau Bourget will be the name of the church in memory of Charles Nungesser, who, with Col, first attempted to fly from the European continent to North America and disappeared. The shrine is officially dedicated to the memory of Mgr. Charles Gihler, bishop of Versailles, great friend of airmen, who died in 1931.

The church built on the simplest lines, will cost about one million francs, not counting the three cartoon bells to be installed in the belfry, and of which the largest will toll for fliers in general and the middle one for pilots. The small one will be for general use.

The airmen's chapel will be presided over by a white limestone statue of Our Lady of the Skies—a work of modernist simplicity which represents the Virgin with head lifted and arms outstretched, as if she were about to "take off."

Hard To Answer

Questions Relating To Costs, Prices, And Wages, Are Confusing

If we go up, costs go up. If costs go up, wages must go up some more. Thus the economic spiral rises with three items like three dogs chasing each other around the tracks, all after the rabbit that climbs a pole in the middle of the spiral just out of reach of all three. Which one ought to be ahead?

If wages are ahead of prices, prices can not pay the wages. If prices are ahead, wages can not pay the prices. Always between them is the confusing item of cost.

When we had what we called prosperity, which item was ahead? Did the machinery stop because the positions began to change? Now that they are winding up the clock works to make the machine go up again, which item must be kept ahead, and how wide must the gap between them be? Running all three ahead might be better.

But is the track wide enough? And which should have the inside track, closest to the rabbit going up the pole? And what difference does motion make if there is no change in the relative positions?

Questions like these give anyone a headache. It is not anything in his head to ache with—San Francisco Chronicle.

Message From King George

First Canadian Sunday School Congratulated On 150th Anniversary

The King has heard with interest of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the beginning of Sunday school work in Canada, in the Church of St. Paul's, in Halifax, with which the royal family have had many personal associations. His Majesty sends great wishes for work then begun and for the church in which the beginning was made."

His Majesty's message is one of many received by Rev. Dr. T. W. Savary, rector of St. Paul's, where the first Sunday School in Canada was started in 1783, just 53 years after the historic church was built.

Others have come from the general synod of the Church of England in Canada, the diocese of Nova Scotia, the ministerial association of Nova Scotia, various other organizations and individuals.

St. Paul's oldest Protestant church in the Dominion, was opened for services in 1750, one year after H.E. Edward Cornwallis founded the colony. The original building still stands, and is the place of worship for a large congregation of Church of England members. Beneath the office are tombs in which governors, distinguished soldiers and statesmen were buried years ago.

It takes 2,100 pounds of foodstuffs per year to feed the average person.
